BIONICLE

STAR-LORD

How well do you know the outer space adventurers and explorers called the Guardians of the Galaxy? Check out their bios and match them up with the character that they fit! When you're done, you can check your answers on page 23.

Born in a world populated by sentient plants, this Guardian is best friends with Rocket Raccoon. With the ability to mold his giant bark-covered form at will and monstrous strength, he is a formidable member of the Guardians of the Galaxy.

This scrappy little Guardian comes from Half-World and is a master tactician as well as a dangerous fighter. A victim of illegal genetic and cybernetic experiments, he is the only creature of his kind in the universe.

This interstellar adventurer is often equipped with high-tech weapons. Brash, stubborn and bold, this hero is never seen without his mix-tape of music from his home planet, Earth.

MILANO

Star-Lord's trusty starship and the primary mode of transportation for the Guardians of the Galaxy. A one-of-a-kind vehicle for a one-of-a-kind team. The Milano can outrun, outmanoeuvre and outclass most starships in the galaxy, and using its impressive arsenal of interstellar weapons, it can easily overpower even the most intimidating enemies.

NECROCRAFT

Ronan's specially made fleet of fighter ships. Their blasters pack a punch, even against the Milano!

DRAX

KNOWHERE MINING POD

The Guardians of the Galaxy make use of the industrial strength mining pods, and their two grabbing claws, on Knowhere to keep the mysterious Orb from falling into Ronan's hands.

After losing his family, this heavily tattooed warrior has been on a rampage across the galaxy for years. The most recent member of the Guardians of the Galaxy, it remains to be seen if he can work with a team.

This green-skinned beauty is the last surviving member of the Zehoberi species, and has been trained into a fierce warrior. She's a master swordsman and is known as "the most dangerous woman in the universe."
